FROM OUR PASTOR

I am sure that you, like I, have watched over the last week as another named storm crashed into the Carolinas. Family and friends and places that are familiar to many of us have been on our minds and in our prayers over these days just as they have been in years past when other storms have come to the gulf coast or to Florida or to other parts of this world. Every time these storms come, I remember the storms I have weathered in my own life.

We were on vacation on Cape San Blas in 1995 when Hurricane Erin crossed Florida and hit the gulf as a Category 2 storm. Two houses down, a father and daughter from Thomasville, GA were swept out to sea—two of 6 deaths in FL because of that storm. It was a heart wrenching and sobering moment to see the search planes and helicopters moving up and down the coast to no avail. A little more than a year later, I was a freshman at Mercer and during orientation I heard someone telling a story of grief--of losing close family friends who were at a Florida beach during a hurricane a year ago. I asked if he was from Thomasville and we made the shared connection which was a deep grief for his family and heart-wrenching witness for mine.

It is often the best thing that we can do when we connect with someone who has experienced deep loss, whether of a loved one or of a home or community from a storm, or of a way of life because of a disease or lost employment. We cannot take it away. We cannot undo it. We sometimes cannot even relate. But what we can always offer is a witness to the reality of another's pain and the assurance of God's presence in the midst of it. It is sacred work, and it is the work of the church. Come join us as together we offer that gift to the world.

Blessings,

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FAITH INFORMING LIFE

SPEAKER: JULIE KEGLEY SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 30TH

What does it feel like when a church is without barriers? Julie Kegley will help us to know. Julie Kegley is Senior Staff Attorney with the Georgia Advocacy Office, the independent, federally mandated protection and advocacy system for people with disabilities in Georgia. Julie is a graduate of Auburn University and the Cumberland School of Law and was among the first deaf and hard of hearing attorneys admitted to the Bar of the Supreme Court of the United States. As a mother and active member of Dunwoody Baptist Church Julie knows the beauty of being embraced by her church. She works hard to defend people with all different types of disabilities.

LUNCHEON WITH JULIE KEGLEY

Let's start a conversation! Our family members and friends help us raise awareness and sensitivity to those with special needs and disabilities. During lunch, we will talk about ways we can best support those in our church family. Julie will be available to talk more about the work of the Georgia Advocacy Office and also to dialogue about ways the church might support those with a variety of disabilities. For additional information, contact Tamara Smathers. Please call Debbye in the church office to make a reservation for lunch and childcare.

ACCESSIBILITY IMPROVEMENTS

An older building provides challenges to meeting the growing accessibility needs of those coming to the church. In the past year we have installed a wheelchair accessible restroom in the Sanctuary Narthex and improved access to the front of the Sanctuary.

And now, thanks to a very generous contribution, the women's restroom nearest the church office has an automatic door opener, allowing those who use wheelchairs and walkers to enter and exit the restroom more easily.

WEDDING SHOWER FOR ELLEN REAVES AND LOGAN WOOD

The church is invited to a drop-in wedding shower to honor Ellen and Logan on Sunday, October 21, from 2:00-4:00 p.m. in the Church Dining Room. They are registered at Bed Bath and Beyond and Amazon. Please contact Marsha Dempsey for more information. The wedding will be December 8 at 3:30 p.m. in the Sanctuary.

FLU SHOTS OFFERED - WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 17 - 4:00-6:00 P.M.

Influenza Vaccine Questionnaire and Consent Forms are available in the office, on the Welcome Desk and in Adult Bible Study Classrooms. Please complete the form, attach a copy of your insurance card and turn in to the office no later than Friday, October 12.
