FROM OUR PASTOR

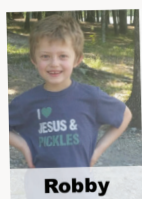

Each time I have had the opportunity to participate in our church's Habitat for Humanity build, I am inspired by what I heard another minister name as "a miracle of partnerships." Last Saturday as we were putting up trusses, I was thinking about how we were partnering together. Neal was driving the forklift. Jack and I were hooking the trusses up to the forks of the lift and making sure it didn't swing wildly in the air. Trip and Jeff and Troy and Bill were guiding them in place and nailing them down. Jason and Brian and Jason and Bob were nailing on hurricane straps and doing other tasks inside the house.

Those weren't all the partnerships though! Nancy and West brought lunch. John and Diane came by to check on our progress and offer encouragement. Amelia, who is our home recipient and who has been putting in sweat equity for months and months, came by to say hello and meet some people. But those aren't all the partnerships either! Some of the equipment time had been donated. There are other businesses who have and who will give supplies or materials or time for reduced costs. And just as important as the time and effort given is the generosity of our church members who have been investing in this build for the last six years through your generosity! God calls us to love one another, and our partnering together to build a home for Amelia and her children is another beautiful example of how our church does this so faithfully and so well. What a gift to be a part of it!

HABITAT HOUSE BUILD

Amelia Marks and her children eagerly await their new home! We will pause our work days as subcontractors will come in to do the electrical, plumbing and shingles. Our next project will be insulation. Amelia is a Master Cosmetologist, who at this time is specializing in going to her clients' homes to provide service, especially haircuts for both men and women. She's always looking for new customers and Diane Wilson, the FBC family liaison, can testify to her abilities. Contact Bob Hortman (rphdmd@aol.com) to learn ways to serve through this build. You don't have to be able to hold a hammer!
